

Table of Contents (TOC) Alerts - using JournalTOCs*What is JournalTOCs?

JournalTOCs is a free online resource which alerts you when new issues of your favourite journals are published. Table of Contents alerts (TOCs) are available from a choice of thousands of journals and by signing up for alerts you will receive an email whenever a new TOC for any of the journals you follow becomes available.

How to search and create email alerts

- Go to www.journaltoCs.hw.ac.uk
- Register for a free account by clicking on the “Sign up” link.
- Start searching for TOCs by entering a journal title in the left-hand side “Search” box and click “Go”.
- From the search results click on a journal title to view the current TOC, if you click on an article from the list you will be able to view the abstract at the publisher's website.
- If you want to follow a journal, tick the box next to the journal you want and it will automatically be added to your “Followed Journals” list.
- To activate the email alerts feature click on the box next to "Email Alerts is Off", the message will now change to “Email Alerts is On”.
- In addition to searching for specific journal titles you can also search for articles by keyword to identify journals that contain articles that might be of interest to you, it's also possible to browse journal titles by subject or by publisher.

Please note that JournalTOCs only offers the latest table of contents for each journal, and does not archive older TOCs.

For more information please contact the Frank Curtis Library 01603 421236
library@nsft.nhs.uk